EAST GETTING INTO LINE.

Bitter Antagonism Against Democratic Candidate No Longer Exists—Watch-as and the Tariff—The Attack on Foraker—Its Probable Effect on Ohio Politics—Indiana Safely Democratic.

By WILLIS J. ABBOT.

So far as the Democratic campaign is concerned, no one about national headquarters is worried. It is really amazing how strong is the feeling among Republicans that Mr. Bryan is sure to be elected. One of the principal managers of the McKinley campaign in 1900 called on me the other day and told me that there was no enthusiasm at all for Taft. I cannot mention his name, because he said that he personally would not vote for Taft for the reason that he did not believe that Mr. Taft was fairly nominated by the Republican party.
I remember very well when this informant of mine was working like a slave in the speakers' bureau of the Republican national committee. This year he is staying away from that committee and is quietly saying that in the parts of the United States with which he is acquainted the Republicans are going to vote for Bryan and Kern.

It so happens that I know much about this man's interest in Republican politics. Today he says that the states in which he is interested—Montana, Idaho, Washington and those along the Pacific coast—are likely to be absolutely Democratic when the campaign closes. I only quote him because it has not been my good fortune to be in that part of the country of late months. But he is a Republican ought to know something about it and as a Republican said that the Pacific coast is almost solid for Mr. Bryan.

And as to the East.

At the moment I am writing Mr.
Bryan is speaking in New York and in adjacent states. What the effect of his speeches there may be can only be determined after the election is held. I believe and those who are associated with me believe that he is going to swing New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island. We have come to the conclusion that there is no longer a bitter antagonism against Bryan. We believe that the people of the east have come to recognize in him a champion of the people's cause.
We hold that as he has preached the moral and ethical end of politics he has grown and developed as a leader of the American people. Sometimes I think that Mr. Bryan is less of a politician than he is a moral teacher.
When he devotes months of his time to lectures before Chautauqua associations, when he speaks Sunday after Sunday before a Presbyterian or a Methodist church, he is doing the kind of work that the ordinary politician never undertakes. The politician goes out to make his speeches on free trade or the relations of the different departments of the federal government to each other. Mr. Bryan talks about the Prince of Peace, he talks about the ethical and the moral phases of politics, and he talks to a Methodist assembly with exactly the same earnestness that he shows when he speaks to an ordinary political gathering. I do not believe that with all this work he has been doing Mr. Bryan will have built up a new political following? Is it not likely that, whatever may be the activities of the Republican national committee, the men and the women who have listened to Mr. Bryan speaking on matters of this character will earnestly and enthusiastically support his candidacy? I get much of this talk concerning what he has been doing, not in politics, but in the higher type of religious and ethical work in this country, and I am very much inclined to believe that what he has done is likely to carry him through to complete success and to make him the next president of the United States.

Watch and Prey.

Over here in the United States we have a watch trust that preys upon the people. Congressman Henry T.
Rainey of Illinois carries a watch which very curiously illustrates the predatory character of the watch trust.
It was offered by Charles A. Keene, a New York watch dealer, independent of the trust, to President Roosevelt, refused by the president and accepted by Mr. Rainey.

Engraved on the front case is the story of its offering to the president and his refusal of it. This is how it reads:

HOME AND FOREIGN PRICES.

Waltham and Elgin.	Home.	Foreign.
Riverdale Waltham.	47.25	$2.25
Royal Waltham.	11.50	7.00
Lady Waltham.	10.50	5.00
Medbury Elgin.	11.42	5.40
Seven Jeweled Elgin.	4.75	3.00
Naught size Elgin.	6.00	4.00

This seems fairly indicative of what the watch trust is doing in the United States and abroad. But it might be worth while to quote something that Mr. Rainey tried in a futile endeavor to get an investigation or a prosecution of this trust. He presented all the information which I am now making public to the department of justice at Washington, pleading that the trust be prosecuted under the anti-trust law. The department of justice ignored his appeal. Of course watches are more or less the luxurious property of the more comfortable classes. But at the same time the situation exists with sewing machines, with agricultural machinery, with many kinds of tools which the ordinary American, whether mechanic or farmer, is compelled to use in this country. They are sold abroad for less than they can be bought for within this country, and for that very reason there should be a determined effort on the part of the people to compel a reduction of the tariff on articles thus purveyed to foreign customers at less than the domestic price.

I have reason to believe that even the Standard Oil company is selling its product in Great Britain at less than it will sell it here in our own country, where it pumps the crude petroleum out of the bowels of the earth. Everybody knows that the United States Steel company sells steel in foreign lands for less than it will sell it to our American shipyards. And the one thing that enables these corporations to increase foreign markets for the profit of their own stockholders is the tariff.
There is no profit apparent for the American people, who have to pay the tariff tax.

Taft's Fight on Foraker.

The attack made by Mr. Hearst on Senator Foraker was vicious and yet at this moment of writing seems to have been supported by necessary evidence. Personally I know nothing about the facts in the case, and I am as little fond of Foraker as of Hearst.
But I am inclined to wonder whether the controversy arose from Mr.
Hearst's own personally conducted political party or whether it was not initiated by Mr. Taft himself or by his brother, Charles P. Taft. The latter statesman is desirous of being the next senator from Ohio. Naturally he sees that Mr. Foraker stands in his way. Therefore he is willing to fight Foraker and to carry out what was said was the purpose of the Taft organization a year ago—namely, to eliminate Foraker from politics.

It so happens that I know Mr.
Hearst moderately well, and I am entirely confident that he would not hesitate for a moment to lend his aid to Charles P. Taft if by so doing he could hurt either Mr. Foraker or the Democratic national ticket.

The Ohio Outlook.

The effect of this attack will be to absolutely destroy the Republican polity in Ohio this year. It will destroy it not because the people of that state believe that the charges made against Senator Foraker are thoroughly well founded, but because the Foraker faction in the state will believe, as it does believe today, that these charges were made by a mercenary of politics at the instance of Taft's own brother. Personally I do not believe that Senator Foraker represents all that is sweetness and light in politics, but he has not back of him a tremendous and a devoted following in the state of Ohio.
Following will refuse to believe that he is in this particular incident guilty of any unlawful act. They will believe that certain letters have been purloined by an agent of the Taft family from the files of the Standard Oil company and have been used for Foraker's undoing.

The publication of these letters may undo Foraker. Probably it will. But it is mighty likely to undo Taft as well, for there is no man in public life who has a more devoted personal following in his own state than Joseph B. Foraker. If it be made clear, as it certainly will be, that these letters were turned over to Hearst by some one closely associated with the Taft campaign, you will find that the men who have marched with Foraker for years back will march into their tents and permit Mr. Taft to fight his battle himself. This is only one of the many bitter quarrels among Republicans.
There are others in Indiana, in Kansas, in Wisconsin and in Minnesota.

But, after all, the real issue is likely to settle down upon this: If Mr. Rosvelt is to select his successor as president and if Mr. Taft is to select his brother as senator from Ohio and if Mr. Charles P. Taft is to be the dominant factor in selecting the congressional delegation from Ohio, how far are we from imperialism and a hereditary monarchy?

What Happened in Indiana.

Everybody believes that Indiana is going to be this year a straight Democratic state. Of course belief does not mean proof. But we have some proof that may possibly justify our belief. For example, only the other day it became necessary for the voters of Indiana to elect a number of members of the state legislature to fill vacancies which had been caused by death or by inability of the regularly elected members to serve. There were five of these districts that were in the past solidly Republican. Four of them this year returned Democratic candidates. One, which had a record of 2,600 Republican majority, this year dropped to 208.

So much for Indiana. But on the very day that this happened a prominent Republican politician whom I have known for years and who has been one of the principal managers of the Beveridge candidacy encountered me in Chicago. He informed me that the state of Indiana this year was almost as safely Democratic as the state of Texas. And he further declared that in his travels throughout the United States he was convinced that the whole nation was this time going for Bryan and Kern.

And whatever may have been his purpose or his motive I did not disagree with him that throughout the United States the great newspapers, the metropolitan newspapers of the land, are giving to the Bryan candidacy attention which they never gave it before. I am writing this from Chicago, and today, while there is not an avowed Democratic paper in Chicago, there is not one single unfair paper printed. The newspapers of the United States which in 1896 were bitterly against us are this year looking toward us at least with favoring eyes.

COCKRILL'S CAREER.

Lexington, Ky., September, 27.
—Tom Cockrill, who was crushed to death under a freight train in Louisville last night was 31 years of age and a native of Breathitt county.

In a quarrel over a game of cards in a "blind tiger" at Jackson, in 1904, he killed Ben Hargis, a brother of the late Judge James Hargis. This caused ill feeling between the two families, which was heightened when Cockrill was acquitted. The following June Jim Cockrill, a brother of Tom, was fatally shot from a window in the courthouse at Jackson.

The Hargis Cockrill feud was on with a vengeance. A short time later Dr. B. D. Cox, an anti Hargis sympathizer, was assassinated when leaving his home late one night. This death was followed by the killing of J. B. Marcum, a young lawyer.

Curt Jett and Tom White were tried for the killing of James Cockrill, Cox and Marcum were given life sentences in the penitentiary.

Judge James Hargis and Ed Callahan, former Sheriff of Breathitt county were tried as accessories to these assassinations and were acquitted. Judge Hargis had only succeeded in clearing his name of these charges when he was killed by his son Beech, now in jail at Jackson and soon to be tried at Irvine for the patricide.

Tom Cockrill left Jackson shortly after his acquittal and came to Lexington. He opened on Dewees street a saloon, which he called "The Mountaineer," on the front of it being painted the picture of a man in the wide soft hat and boots affected by the mountaineer and likewise the belt and revolver usually worn by them. This place was also known as "The Bucket of Blood," and the title was not misapplied. The saloon gave the police daily trouble and was finally suppressed. Cockrill then went to North Dakota and became a brakeman on a railroad. He remained there until last fall, when he was laid off because of the panic and returned to the Kentucky mountains. He did not go back to Jackson, but took up his residence with his wife's people at Beattyville and opened a billiard hall there.

This was not a success and he went back to Dakota a few weeks ago in the hope of securing his old place of employment. He was evidently unsuccessful and when on his way back to Beattyville and he met his death, which followed a spree in Louisville.

President Roosevelt Monday night made public a long reply to Mr. Bryan's letter, in which he compares the prosecutions under the anti trust act during the last Democratic Administration with the number under his Administration. The President again bitterly denounces Gov. C. N. Haskell and criticizes Mr. Bryan for his attitude toward the former treasurer of the campaign committee. Mr.
Roosevelt expresses unwillingly to have campaign contributions made public before election on the ground that such public would be made the basis for unjust criticisms of the Republican campaign.

All the experiments thus far indicate that while under favoring conditions slight precipitation may be caused by artificial means, no method has been discovered of producing rain on anything like a small scale. Nature has monopoly of that.

By Fall a new term will have been coined to describe the political status of our Statesman, to be known as an Oil "Senator" will be an unequivocal description of a man's unbecoming membership in the "Millionaire's Club."

AFTER reading President Roosevelt's lists of the trusts he has prosecuted it would seem that none has escaped save the Pullman car porter corporation.

SEVEN is said to be a lucky number so that superstitious folks are sure that one of the seven candidates for President is going to be elected.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The extraordinary session of the Porto Rico Legislature, which was called principally to pass the $3,000,000 irrigation project, adjourned yesterday without having passed the measure.

In his speech at Cincinnati, William J. Bryan has this to say of Roosevelt: "All I ask is that he put into practice for a month and a half what he has talked about for seven years and that is a square deal."

W. J. Conners chairman of the Democratic State Committee of New York, made public figures of his preliminary canvass of the State, which he said show that Bryan would carry the State by 100,000 plurality.

Taft and Bryan were both in Minneapolis Monday, but despite the efforts of both to meet and exchange greetings the several engagements made for them prevented. Messages were however, exchanged. Judge Taft spoke at the dedication of the new V. M. C. A. building in the afternoon and at the Fowler Methodist church at night. Mr. Bryan left for Mitchell S. D.

Assailing the President, Mr. Taft and the Republican party generally at every turn, W. J. Bryan, on the concluding day of his present tour, traveled through Iowa, on his way back to Lincoln. His progress was marked by a series of demonstrations which were nothing short of ovations. The entire community at every point where his train stopped seemed to turn out to do him honor.

The Interparliamentary Union in session at Berlin, has accepted the invitation from Canada to meet in Quebec in 1909.

Practically the entire State of Pennsylvania east of the Alleghany mountains is suffering from one of the worst drouths in years.

Samuel Gompers, in testifying in connection with the injunction proceedings against him, John Mitchell and other labor leaders, declared that the whole case was based upon an opinion given by Judge Taft. He also charges that an emissary of James Van Cleave, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, had attempted to bribe him.

William R. Hearst, in an address before the Independence party State Convention in New York, read another batch of Standard Oil letters, written, as he said, to or by John D. Archbold. One of the letters was to former Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina. Mr. Hearst renewed his attack on Gov. Haskell and brought a new charge to the effect that Haskell was one of the organizers of the Steel Trust.

Alarmed at the prospect of a clean sweep for Bryan, the Pennsylvania Railroad, for the first time since 1896, is trying to swing its vast army of employees into line for the Republican ticket.

Blanks are being distributed, asking employees to indicate their political preference with the idea of bringing around those who signify their opposition to Taft. In Ohio the blanks are the most numerous. A copy of the typewritten notice which is being circulated among foremen by some of the higher employees, follows:

"In order to learn how the men stand politically I am sending you blank to fill out. This will not effect your position, whatever, regardless of how you vote.

"For Taft—
"For Bryan—
"For Higgin—
"For Debs—"

This is an innocent looking request on the face of it, but the railroad men are aware that it is a hint to line up for Taft.

There is a tacit understanding among employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company that the corporation wants the Republican party to win, and it is not necessary for the company to issue a proclamation from the house tops in order to let those dependent on it for a livelihood know that it is expected of them.

The idea prevails among the railroad men who have seen the same game played before, that the distribution of the blanks is the first step toward an active campaign for Taft among employees.

It developed some time ago that Republican managers were urging the railroad company to take this step.

This movement on the part of the company has created much indignation among railroad men. They take the position that their political affiliations are strictly personal matters, and that the company has no right to try to find how a man is going to vote any more than one has to enter a voter's booth when he is making a ballot. Many of the men are prepared to keep mum regarding their choice for President.

In 1896 it was well known that the Pennsylvania Railroad desired the defeat of Bryan, and similar notices were sent out at that time. Many votes were taken away from Bryan as a result.

Mr. Wm. F. Debord is adding beauty to our little hamlet by the erection of a two story dwelling.

Our citizens feel delighted over the long sought for, and much needed rain which began falling Sunday night. Pasture land was almost dry enough to burn and farmers could not prepare wheat land. As there was no letter from this place last week, we were unable to report the death of Miss Francis Todd, which occurred Saturday evening Sept. 19th after an illness, from which she was bed ridden for nineteen years.—Mrs. D. R. Gentry and son, Haskell spent Sunday last with Mrs. J. J. Brown of the North End.—Mrs. Leslie Sowder and daughter, Misses Zelma and Pauline, of Mineral Kausas are here on an extended visit with relatives and friends.

"Red" Mullins says Bryan is certain to be elected, in view of the fact that the "Possum Holler" radicals are all dead.—Mr. Cy Cildress, who recently suffered a serious injury from a run-a-way horse and buggy is able to walk about the house.—Mr. Othello Baker, now of Missouri, but formerly of Kentucky, and Miss Susie Riddle, daughter of John Riddle, of Walnut Grove were recently married at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Baker will return to Mo., to make their future home.—Mrs. Grover Price of this place spent Friday until Saturday with homefolks at Plato.—The opposite side of the creek seems to have a great attraction for two of our handsome young men. We do not know whether they are fishing for minors or big game.

ARTIFICIAL RAINING

Speaking of drouths, it may generally be known that Congress has dignified the question of rain making by authorizing costly experiments and considering an extensive report on the subject. Different methods of producing rain have been proposed at different times, the main features being by extensive fires or by causing a severe concussion of the upper air.

Prof. James P. Eisey was the originator and for many years ardent advocate of the fire theory. He was born in Pennsylvania but spent most of his adult life in the West; and died in Cincinnati in 1864. He maintained that extensive rains could be produced by extensive forest fires in the far West, and he demonstrated it theoretically to the satisfaction of scientists. His theory was that if the fires were continued for a sufficient length of time they would cause an upward current of hot air which would certainly bring rain. His theory was endorsed by European scientists and the distinguished French savant, Arago said: "France has its Cuvier, England its Newton, America its Eisey." He tried to get an appropriation from Congress to enable him to test his theory, but failed. In 1843, however he received an appointment under the War Department and prosecuted his investigations in the Washington Observatory. He was a man of real scientific attainments, but his theory was never fully tested.

In 1891 a Chicago man named Gathman patented a method of making rain by suddenly chilling the atmosphere by rapid evaporation through the release of liquefied carbonic acid gas. This was never tested. In '80 Gen. Daniels Ruggles, of Fredericksburg, Va., obtained a patent on making rain by explosions in the clouds, the explosions to be by torpedoes from balloons. He also failed to get an appropriation from Congress to test his plan but Senator Farwell, of Illinois took it up and succeeded in getting an appropriation of 7,000 for carrying on the experiments. The experiments were carried on in the vicinity of Washington and in Texas. At the next session of Congress another appropriation of $10,000 was made for the purpose of which about $5,000 was expended under the direction of the Department of Agriculture, and the remainder was turned back into the Treasury. The experiments were partially successful in producing a little rain under certain conditions, but were too expensive to justify continuance.

Since the beginning of the epidemic of Asiatic cholera in Russia, there have been 15,683 cases officially reported, from which there have been 7,102 deaths. In St. Petersburg alone 1,875 deaths have been reported. It is not believed that the official reports fully represent the extent of the epidemic.

This is the trade-mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on every bottle of it sold in the world—which amounts to several millions yearly.

Why—Because it has made so many sickly children strong and well—given health and rosy cheeks to so many pale, anemic girls and restored to health so many thousands in the first stages of Consumption.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Terseley Told Information Concerning Matters of Current Interest to Kentuckians.

THE STATE NEWS IN A NUTSHELL

Here Are Found Accurately Detailed the Happenings of the Largest Import Which Are Attracting Attention Throughout Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 30.—The Kentucky State Bankers association met here in annual session, with B. G. Witt, of Henderson, as presiding officer. The main address of the day was delivered by William Sherrer, manager of the New York clearing house, who spoke on the guarantee of bank deposits. Another leading speaker was Joseph T. Talbert, president of the Chicago Clearing House association.

KENTUCKY LIQUOR DECISION

Court of Appeals Affirms Judgment Against Adams Express Company.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 30.—Chief Justice O'Rear, of the court of appeals, sounded the keynote of the feeling of that tribunal with regard to corporations in a opinion affirming judgment in a case of the commonwealth against the Adams Express company, which had been indicted and fined for carrying whisky from one local option county into another. The liquor was shipped from Mercer county to Springfield, in Washington county, all of which territory is wholly within the state of Kentucky. There was nothing to indicate the contents of the package, and the consignee was a painter.

The evidence indicates that the object of shipping the goods in that way was to deceive, said the court. "Common carriers ought to obey the law like other persons," wrote Judge O'Rear, "not merely in keeping the statute while breaking its spirit, but both in letter and spirit, as others are expected to do." Agents employed by corporations ought to inquire and act on knowledge, probabilities, information, experiences, judgment, inferred facts, established facts, as men generally do in similar matters when thinking and acting for themselves. In this way a corporation is humanized and is made to see, hear, know, exercise care, skill, judgment, prudence, and is made amenable to the laws when the intent, motive, knowledge, etc., are elements of wrong."

VICTORY FOR RAILROADS

Kentucky Lines Favored by Court Decision.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 30.—On the ground that it was an arbitrary regulation of interstate commerce and that the law arbitrarily fixed a tax without taking the value into consideration, Judge R. L. Stout has declared Section 429 of the Kentucky statute unconstitutional, and railroads having terminals in Kentucky have thus gained a sweeping victory. The decision was made in the case of Arthur E. Hopkins, state revenue agent, against the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, the Big Four and the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville to collect an annual tax of $2,500 on their terminal facilities in Louisville.

Tom Cockrill Killed.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 30.—The body of a man who was run over by a train and instantly killed in the Kentucky & Indiana railroad yards, was identified as that of Thomas Cockrill, the noted Breathitt county feudist. Cockrill's presence in the yards has not been explained, but it is presumed he was either on his way on returning from a visit to his old home. He was a brother of Jim Cockrill, who was at one time marshal of Jackson and who was assassinated. Tom Cockrill was also involved in several feud battles and had killed at least one member of the Hargis faction.

Lad Missing From School.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 29.—William E. Smith, a freshman at the state university, has been missing from his boarding house for over a week. He disappeared from the home of Mrs. Francis Beauchamp where he was staying, and has not been heard from since. It was at first thought that he was the victim of a hazing, but an investigation by the faculty proved this to be untrue. The missing student is the son of Rev. Willis P. Smith, a Presbyterian minister of Melrose, N. M.

Bleachers Collapsed.

Roanoke, Va., Sept. 30.—Twenty-five persons were injured on the Roanoke fair grounds when a stand of bleachers collapsed, carrying down more than a thousand men, women and children. The majority of the victims suffered sprained ankles, cuts and bruises. The injured were removed to hospitals. Twenty thousand spectators were on the ground at the time and great excitement prevailed.

Crowd Small, Betting Heavy.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 30.—Although the attendance at Wednesday's races was the smallest of the meeting, the betting was heavier than on any previous day. The feature of the day, the third event, at a mile, resulted in a victory for Lady Baird over Macias by a length.

Fire at LaCrosse, Wis., destroyed St. Joseph church and ten dwellings.

Quincy, Sprains and Swellings Cured

"In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quincy—My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Cousins, Otterburn, Mich.—Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings. For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

H. K. Mullins of this county who has been prospecting in sev. of the mountain counties for number of years, says he has undoubtedly found gold in Rockcastle county. Sensations have been created at various times and places within the past ten years by the report of the discovery of precious metals in the mountains of Kentucky. It is well established that traces exist in many places but have never been found rich enough to attract capital for development.—London Democrat.

Young Childress was killed while employed by this company in construction of the railroad bridge at Livingston. C. C. Williams was the attorney for the Plaintiff.

PRITCHETT.—Mrs. J. H. Pritchett, of Garrard county, about three weeks ago came to visit her daughter, Mrs. Cash Hiatt, of the Hiatt section. She had been there only a few days when she was stricken down with pneumonia living only nine days. The remains were taken back to the home in Garrard for burial.

A dispatch from Grays, dated Sept. 28, says: About 9 p. m. last night the Sheriff of Knox county, D. H. Williams, went to the Ely mines to arrest W. H. Green, on a charge of murder. He succeeded in arresting Green, when Chas. Harris and Steve Owens assaulted the Sheriff. Owens struck him on the head with a shot gun and clucked with the Sheriff, as did Chas. Harris. Mr. Williams freed himself by shooting Owens three times, from which he died at noon today.

HAZEL PATCH.—It was a privilege of the writer to spend a half day in Hazel Patch this week, where he had the pleasure of seeing several Rockcastle men busily engaged, and every indication pointed that they are reaping a good harvest for their labors. Mr. John P. Houston is in the merchandise business and is enjoying a good patronage. J. J. McCall, the other merchant, was absent but his daughter, Miss Grace, was in charge of the store and was busy most all the time waiting upon the trade. John Prewitt, Charley Rice and I. N. Grabeel, are on the hustle from early morn till late at night, looking after their lumber interests. Here are the yards of the E. R. Spottswood & Son Lumber Company, who have several million feet of lumber on the yard and large quantities coming in every day. More than fifty wagon loads, are unloaded each day and from a stand point of lumber interests, Hazel Patch is one of the busiest points along the L. & N. Now that the hot weather is over and time for every body to get busy, we want to urge upon our correspondents the importance of sending in a good letter each week. At points where we do not have a correspondent we want one. We want news and through our correspondents we expect to obtain the larger part of it.

Mt. Vernon is to have more concrete walks, and if all build who have expressed a willingness to do so before the close of the year we will have concrete along nearly the whole of Main street on both sides. It will certainly speak well for the town and the increase in the value of property will more than offset the expenditure. Let the good go on.

SMITH-SCOTT.—News was received here a few days since of the marriage of Cashier Walter G. Smith, of The Bank of Sherburne, to Miss Scott, of Sherburne. The many friends of Mr. Smith in this county extend to this happy couple their heartiest congratulations and wishes for a long and prosperous journey through life.

The Mt. Vernon Signal is now "free, white and 21," that good paper having reached its majority last week. We hope it will live to be a thousand years old and that its clever editor will break Mathusalem's record for longevity.—Interior Journal. We are very grateful to Bro. Walton for his kindly expression and we most certainly hope for him and his splendid paper all the success he might wish for, if that will pay the bill.

CARD OF THANKS.—We take this method of returning our heart felt thanks, to kind friends and neighbors for kindness and sympathy shown us in our dark hour of trouble. May God bless them.

J. H. PRITCHETT AND CHILDREN.

Mr. Editor, I admire a man that glories in a victory, but I admire, more, a man that is not ashamed of an honest defeat. Our Brodhead correspondent took a great deal of pleasure in mentioning the ball game on Thursday in which the teachers were defeated but he did not have the magnanimity of soul to say that the teachers "wallopped" the home team the next day with a score of nine to eight.

It was quite a disappointment that Hon. J. Smith Hayes, who had an appointment to speak here last Monday, did not put in his appearance. Quite a number of the Democrats of the county came in to hear him and went away greatly disappointed. We are sure the failure upon Mr. Hayes's part, to come, was unavoidable but we have assurance that there will be good speakers come to Rockcastle and next time there will not be any disappointment.

Why Suffer?

If you suffer pain from any cause, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills will relieve it—and leave no bad after-effects. That's the important thing. Neither do they create a habit. More often the attacks become less frequent, or disappear altogether. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have no other effect except to relieve pain and quiet nervous irritation.

"We are never without Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. My husband and son, aged 15, were always subject to sick headache until we began using these Pills, and they have broken them up entirely. Don't think they have had to use them for six months. I recommend them to every one. A few weeks ago I heard an old lady friend was sick. I went to see her. She was down with LaGrippe, and nearly crazy with awful backache. I gave her one of the Anti-Pain Pills and left another for her to take in a short time. They helped her right away, and she says she will never be without them again. Last winter my husband was taken with pleurisy on both sides, and I know he would have died if it hadn't been for the Pills. In less than half an hour he was sweating, and went to bed and slept."

MRS. G. H. WEBB, Austburg, Ohio. Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and we authorize him to return the price of five packages (only) if it fails to benefit you. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

HYENA STEW AS FOOD.

A low Arab gorges himself on hyena stew though the smell of the carcass is so rank and offensive, that even dogs leave it with disgust. But some Americans eat the polecat the 'possum, the coon, and the fox. Italians are extravagant fond of the fox. In the Arctic regions a fox is a piece de resistance at any dinner. Prairie dog was good enough for Fremont, while Lewis and Clark discovered that in an emergency they could subsist on wolf, coyote and boars. Sam Ward said that a stew of tadpole, with Madeira sauce, was better than diamond back terrapin, yet he did not care particularly for snails or smoked porcupines. Salted hippopotamus he could go on a pinch but rhinoceros—never. He had only high praise for camels' flesh, and once ate a bit of rattlesnake chowder.—New York Press.

A JEWELER'S EXPERIENCE. C. R. Kluger, The Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind. writes: 'I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and all other remedies had failed.'

The drought threatens Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio with an epidemic of contagious diseases. Warning has been given citizens by healthy boards to boil the drinking water.

Gov. Wilson reviewed the First Kentucky Regiment at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, Monday. His remarks were well received by the entire regiment.

MARRIED MAN IN TROUBLE. A married man who permits any member of the family to take anything except Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung trouble, is guilty of neglect. Nothing is as good for all pulmonary troubles. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is in a yellow package.

Dr. Carter Helm Jones, formerly of Louisville, has resigned his charge at Lynchburg, Va. and accepted a call to the First Baptist church of Oklahoma City, Okla.

ONE of the strongest reasons why Mr. Taft should be defeated for President, is his religion, which denies the Divinity of Jesus Christ. Mr. Taft is a member of the Unitarian church, which belief is that God exists only in one person.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is used nearly every where, because it not only heals irritation of the throat and stops the cough, but it drives the cold out of the system, through its laxative principle, by assuring a free and gentle action of the bowels, and that is the only way to cure a cold. You can't cure it as long as you are constipated. Insist upon Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. Sold by Chas. C. Davis.

Senator J. B. Foraker is out in a lengthy statement referring to the Hearst and Roosevelt charges, in which he severely roasts the President and mildly roasts Judge Taft. He denies that there was anything improper in his connection with the Standard Oil Company.

New York State is threatened with forest fires which may equal those of 1903, when several lives were lost and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed.

Kodol is a combination of the natural digestive juices and it digests all classes of food and every kind of food, so you see it will do the work that the stomach itself does. The only difference between it and the stomach is the stomach can get out of order and Kodol can not, but Kodol can put the stomach into good order. Buy Kodol today it is guaranteed. Sold by Chas. C. Davis.

The result of the primary election for the Republican nomination for Governor in Michigan is in doubt. The contestants are Gov. Fred M. Warner and Dr. James B. Bradley. A recount of the votes in several hundred precincts is now in progress at Lansing.

How To Cure A Cold. The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

KERN SATISFIED

John W. Kern Democratic candidate for Vice President, returned home from the East this morning. He seemed greatly pleased with the outlook for the ticket. When he was in Baltimore, he said men who never had voted for Bryan voluntarily came to him and asked him to visit their places of business that he might be introduced to their employees.

"On several occasions," said he, "I was recognized by published pictures of me, and men came out of their stores; had me to enter and visit their clerks. Some of them had never voted for Bryan, but said they intended to do so this year."

Some time ago a Baltimore newspaper said that no man that had as much as a dollar and fifty cents would support Bryan, and this has incensed a good many of his friends, and they are now working harder than they otherwise would have done for the ticket.

"In Western Maryland many leading laboring men told me that the national ticket would get 90 per cent of the laboring vote, and that the state was now practically carried for Bryan."

"In Ohio the conditions are all favorable, and I think there is no doubt that Bryan will carry the state."

"I did not enquire into the factional differences in the Republican party there, but I found many who had been life-long Republicans were now with us."

"Some prominent Republicans told me it was not worth while to devote any time to Ohio, as it would give Bryan its Electoral vote without any effort on our part to get it."

WOMAN INTERRUPTS POLITICAL SPEAKER.

A well dressed woman interrupted a political speaker recently by continually coughing. It she had taken Foley's Honey and Tar it would have cured her cough quickly expelled the cold from her system. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs quickly, strengthens the lungs and expels colds. Get the yellow package.
